SECURITY: Search Wands

www.silsschools.org

At SILS the use of search wands is part of the daily routine for safeguarding all members of the school community.

The SILS Headteacher and staff have a statutory power to search a pupil or their possessions where they have reasonable grounds to suspect that the pupil may have a prohibited item, or any other item that the school identifies that they may be searched for, or as part of the school's daily regime for all pupils before entry into the school.

All students are searched daily on arrival at school.

Students are provided with a wallet for depositing of personal effects – for safe keeping during the school day.
